Academic program admission requirements are often more rigorous than those set by the Graduate School. Please check the program's website (<https://geography.wisc.edu/gis/accelerated-non-thesis-masters-in-cartography-gis-application-information/>) for details on how to apply.

This program accepts applications for the fall and spring semesters.

For admission into the Cartography and GIS Accelerated/non-thesis Master's degree program, applicants should have a GPA of 3.0 or above, and should have completed one undergraduate course in statistical methods. Applicants that do not meet the GPA and course requirement may still be admitted and should reach out to the program manager to discuss options. The application requires a resume, unofficial transcripts, contact information for two professional or academic references, a statement of interest, and proof of English proficiency (international students only). The Graduate School Application is completed online by selecting the following program and paying the application fee: Cartography & Geographic Information Systems MS – Accelerated/Non-Thesis.
