Letters of recommendation must be received by the fall deadline.

Admitted applicants commonly have strong scientific backgrounds and significant research experience. Applicants with undergraduate degrees in the physical (including chemistry) or biological sciences, engineering, pharmacy, and related fields are encouraged to apply. Applicants with master's degrees are also welcomed to apply, but a master's degree is not required. Applicants may apply directly to the Pharmaceutical Sciences PhD program with a bachelor's or PharmD degree- as long as a bachelor's or PharmD degree would be completed by the time one would begin graduate studies.

Please see admissions (<https://pharmacy.wisc.edu/programs/pharmsci/admissions/>) on the program website for additional information and answers to frequently asked questions.
