

MEAD WITTER SCHOOL OF MUSIC

The Mead Witter School of Music (<https://music.wisc.edu/>) is a community of musicians, scholars, and teachers. Since its founding in 1895, the School of Music has lived out a commitment to a student-centered musical education.

As a large department in the College of Letters & Science, we offer flexible programs with innovative and global approaches to music study. Our teaching, research, and performances reflect UW–Madison’s progressive history of creating change through innovation and exploration.

ACCREDITATION

We are accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM) and have been an institutional member of NASM since 1966. NASM is located at 11250 Roger Bacon Dr., Suite 21, Reston, VA 20190, and can be reached by phone at 703-437-0700. ## CHOOSING A MUSIC MAJOR

Mead Witter School of Music offers several degree programs at the undergraduate level. Programs provide a foundation for graduate study and a career in music. We encourage conversations with Mead Witter School of Music professors at any point during your first year as a Music major to learn as much as possible about options that are available.

- The Music major for the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science in the College of Letters & Science is an excellent program for students interested in exploring the wide array of course offerings in the college or in two or more majors. Students outside of Letters & Science can earn an additional major in Music with the permission of their home school or college.
- The Bachelor of Music Performance is a professional degree in music, with a majority of total coursework within the Mead Witter School of Music. Students in this program are looking for depth in performance study along with a large complement of other musical studies at an advanced level.
- The Bachelor of Music Education offers a degree that helps students prepare for the “K-12 Music” teacher certification.

GRADES AND ADVISING

The School of Music is a department of the UW–Madison College of Letters & Science. Information on the grading system and academic procedures/policies is available in the College of Letters & Science section of this Guide under the policies and regulations (<http://guide.wisc.edu/undergraduate/letters-science/#policiesandregulationstext>) tab.

The undergraduate advisor of the Mead Witter School of Music serves as the advisor for all Music majors. The advisor maintains records and assists students in determining an appropriate course schedule each semester.

MUSIC COURSES AND ENSEMBLES FOR NON-MUSIC MAJORS

The School of Music offers a variety of courses in music theory, history, and literature to all UW–Madison students. Check out Course Search & Enroll (<https://enroll.wisc.edu/>) each semester to see what is being offered. More information can be found at Mead Witter School of Music - Areas of Study (<https://music.wisc.edu/areas-of-study/>).

The School of Music also offers numerous bands, chamber ensembles, choirs, jazz ensembles, operas, and orchestras that are open to all UW–Madison students. Some ensembles require an audition and others do not. Learn more about School of Music ensembles at Student Ensembles (<https://music.wisc.edu/ensembles/>).

The School of Music has very limited availability for nonmajors to take performance study (lessons) for credit and requires an audition before enrolling. Students interested in performance study should reach out to either the listed course instructor or undergraduate advisor for more information.

SPECIAL STUDENTS

Persons who are interested in courses offered by the School of Music but who are not working toward a UW–Madison degree should contact the Division of Continuing Studies (<https://continuingstudies.wisc.edu/>), 21 North Park Street, Madison, WI 53715; 608-263-6960. Enrollment is limited to certain music courses.
